Three Persons Die In Route 17 Crash; 2 Others Critical

Car and Light Truck Are in Collision, Involve Three Other Autos; Traffic Delayed

Arden, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—Three residents of Paterson, N. J., were killed and two others were in a critical condition at the Tuxedo, N. Y., Memorial Hospital after a car and light truck collided on Route 17 yesterday.

State Police said the dead and injured were passengers in the auto driven by George J. Mooney, 25, one of those killed.

The other dead, according to police, were Barbara Siebert, 7, and Donald Brentwell, 7, reported in a critical condition were Mrs. Hester Siebert, mother of Barbara, and Everett Siebert, 10.

The truck was owned and operated by Henry (31 Academy Ave.), Middletown, N. Y. Three other autos were damaged in the accident, police reported, but none of their occupants was injured. Traffic reportedly was held up for several hours at the scene.

Two Women Hurt Saturday Night

Collision Occurs Near Lasher Home at Woodstock

Two women were injured and two cars damaged in a two-car collision about 11:30 Saturday night on the Woodstock-Bears-ville road near the Lasher Funeral Home, the Sheriff's office reported today.

The cars were operated by Arthur Lane, of Arden, N. Y., and Thomas Somers Jr., 46, of Pelham, N. Y. Riding with Somers were his wife and son, Thomas Somers III, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter McTigue, of Woodstock.

All the persons riding in the Somers car were taken to the Benedictine Hospital by Conner's ambulance for first aid treatment. Mrs. Somers and Mrs. McTigue were held over for X-rays to check for possible internal injuries. Both drivers escaped personal injury.

The Lane car had both front fenders damaged and the front bumper broken. The Somers car was damaged considerably in the front.

Investigators said the accident occurred when the Somers car, which was proceeding west, slowed down to make a left turn into a driveway on the south side of the highway. The Lane car coming from behind crashed into the left rear end of the Somers machine.

Deputy Sheriff William Frost investigated for the Sheriff's office.

End of Revolt Hinges On Chieftain's Ability

Tehran, Oct. 14 (AP)—Termination of a three-week-old revolt by tribesmen in southern Iran appeared today to hinge upon the ability of the Qashqai chieftain to gain the approval of other tribes for a settlement on the government's terms.

Official sources said last night that Nasser Khan Qashqai leader of the Qashqai tribe in Fars Province, had accepted the government's proposals for ending the revolt. Some political observers and newspapers expressed doubt, however, as to whether Nasser Khan was swinging the other tribal leaders over.

Has a Lot of Meat But Loses $10,000

Chester, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—Safecrackers took $10,000 from the Leonard Packing Company Market yesterday, but left seven $100 bills and two $5 bills on the floor near the safe. Sgt. William Adams of the state police reported.

The Leonard store has been advertising "all the meat you want" for the last six weeks and residents from a wide area have come here for their steaks and chops.

State Gain Recorded

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—Leaders of both major parties today viewed heavy registration figures as omens of victory for their candidates.

Registration in New York city and in 14 of the 15 largest upstate cities total 3,533,317, approximately 23 per cent above the total of 2,866,958 recorded in 1942, last gubernatorial election year.

In 1938, last comparable non-war year, registration for the same cities totaled 3,285,816. Figures from Schenectady were not available.

Upstate voters registered last Friday and Saturday and the same two days the previous week. A six-day registration period closed in New York city Saturday.

Syracuse was the only major city to report a drop in registration as compared with 1942. The decrease, however, was small.

Following is a comparison of 1946 and 1942 registration:

French Accept New Charter Over Opposition of deGaulle

Paris, Oct. 14 (AP)—A constitution for France's Fourth Republic, providing for a powerful legislature overshadowing the president, bore the stamp of public approval today, given in the face of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's opposition.

The people of continental France accepted the new constitution yesterday by a margin of some 1,212,000 votes—and a percentage of 53.6 in favor to 46.4 opposed. Voting was light, with 31.9 percent of the registered voters staying away from the polls.

Gen. de Gaulle, wartime leader of the Fighting French, had contended that the charter was inadequate because under it the executive would be too weak. He warned that the constitution would endanger France's future and urged its rejection.

But the result of the referendum, far from being regarded as a defeat for the General, was taken rather as strong testimony to his continuing prestige. Almost single handedly he nearly defeated the constitution despite the fact that it was backed by France's three major parties.

Official Interior Ministry returns for continental France showed 9,002,467 votes for the constitution to 7,790,676 against it.

Unofficial returns from three North African departments showed that that part of the Empire had rejected the constitution, 239,156 to 145,565—making the unofficial totals for the 93 departments of France and North Africa 9,148,032 "yes" and 8,049,832 "no."

Still missing were reports from Corsica, Martinique, Madagascar, the South Pacific, Indochina and other overseas territories, but they could not change the overall result.

The constitution will not take effect until early December, when Parliament is scheduled to be seated.

One chamber, the National Assembly, is scheduled to be seated.

Soviets May Lose Yank Armaments

No Definite Time Is Set For Negotiations to Start on Settling Up Lend Lease Account

No Payment

Unlikely America Will Ask Reds to Stand for Destroyed Materiel

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The United States will reserve the right to recapture all weapons and munitions supplied Russia under lend-lease before writing the wartime account "closed," government officials said today.

These officials noted that such recapture provisions, have been written into the lend-lease settlements concluded with seven other countries. And they add that they see no reason why American policy on this matter would be changed for the Soviets.

It is not clear when negotiations to settle the Russian account will get underway. A note to Moscow some weeks ago suggesting that a mission be sent here for the purpose reportedly has gone unanswered.

Officials say that in general this country does not expect to exercise its rights in any country to regain possession of items like guns, planes and tanks, but that the recapture clause was inserted as a precautionary measure.

Strictly War Goods

The great bulk of the $11,000,000 in lend-lease goods furnished the Russians falls into the strictly war goods category.

The American officials who will sit in on the settlement discussions with the Soviets said they do not think the United States will seek payment for any war material destroyed or otherwise used up in the war against the Germans and Japanese.

The Russians will be asked, however, to pay at least part of the cost of civilian type articles which the Soviets can use in peace time.

A decision apparently remains to be made on whether to charge for weapons still in use by the Soviet army.

What Others Received

Britain received more than $30,000,000 in American lend-lease, compared with Russia's $11,000,000,000 share and France's $21,377,000,000.

Under reverse lend-lease Britain was credited with about $4,500,000,000, France with $761,000,000 and Russia $2,213,000,000.

Countries that have settled their accounts with the United States in addition to England and France are Australia, New Zealand, India, Turkey and Belgium.

Similar conversations are under way with South Africa, The Netherlands and Norway.

Request Is Rejected

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Supreme Court today rejected a request that it bar Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) from his Senate seat. The request was made by James L. P. Rumble, 421 Tenth avenue, New York, who told the court that Bilbo had deprived Mississippi citizens of the right to vote because of their "color and racial origins."

The application noted that the constitution makes each house of congress the judge of the qualifications of its members. Rumble added that the constitution "has not clothed either of the houses with power of being the exclusive judges of the elections of members." The court merely noted that Rumble's petition was denied and gave no reason.

Second Woman Executed

Belleville, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania executed its second woman in history today. She was 22-year-old Corinne Sykes, negro housemaid, who paid with her life for the butcher-knife slaying of her Philadelphia employer. Six minutes after the condemned woman was strapped in the electric chair at 12:31 a. m., Dr. R. E. Carrier, prison physician, pronounced her dead. Unflinchingly she walked from the death cell to the execution chamber, accompanied by two matrons and the prison chaplain.

Beef Concern Will Begin Butchering; Meat Advertised

Western Steers Received at Plant Downtown; Newburgh Store Offers Meat

The Newburgh Beef Co. of 132 Broadway, Newburgh, which is now operating the former Mones Beef Co. slaughter house at 10-12 Broadway street, Newburgh, announced in The Freeman last Friday, plans to take care of the same territory as that handled by the Mones concern while it was in business, it was said at the slaughter house today.

A shipment of western steers has been acquired by the company, and it was planned to begin slaughtering at the plant this afternoon.

According to the Newburgh News of Saturday, Herman Sumars, head of the concern, announced that the company had taken over the slaughter house in Kingston, and had received a shipment of steers.

The Newburgh Beef Co. operates a retail store on Broadway in Newburgh, and today the concern inserted an advertisement in the Newburgh News in which it was announced it would sell unlimited quantities of porterhouse steak at 65 cents per pound, boneless sirloin roast at 66 cents and ground lamb at 39 cents.

The sale commences Tuesday morning at the Newburgh store. The Newburgh News said that housewives of that city were assured that their meat worries would be over by Tuesday when operations are scheduled to begin in a direct slaughterhouse-to-consumer plan instituted by the Newburgh Beef Co.

Mr. Sumars was quoted as saying that the slaughter house could supply Newburgh with 100,000 pounds of meat each week.

Man Dies in Fire At Milton Farm

William Hogan, 56, Dies When Cabin Burns; Probe Underway

William Hogan, 56, whose home is believed to have been at 19 Lennox avenue, Pittsfield, Mass., was burned to death early this morning when a cabin in which he lived alone on the Paul W. Maxwell farm at Milton, was destroyed by fire. The death is believed to have been accidental, but State Police are continuing an investigation today.

At about 2 o'clock this morning Dave Flemming and Dennis Wright were returning home when they noticed the fire in the cabin occupied by Hogan. The Milton fire department was notified and responded but the one-room cabin was destroyed. After the fire had burned itself out the body of a man identified as that of Hogan was found in the debris.

Corporal John Metzger of the State Police B.C.I. stationed at Highland, was notified and was continuing his investigation today to trace the movements of Hogan prior to the fire. Coroner Jesse McHugh of Walkkill was notified and gave permission for the body to be moved to the Woolsey Funeral Home in Milton.

Hogan is believed to have been a former resident in Lennox and his mother still resides there. Efforts to locate his mother were being made today.

Pravda Says Capital Has Begun Campaign

Moscow, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pravda, commenting on strikes in the United States, declared today American capital had launched a campaign against workers as part of a program to conquer the world by imperialism.

"These plans," the Communist party newspaper said, "contain in themselves a serious threat to the cause of world peace and, because of this, constrict the vital interests of the people, thereby encountering the growing resistance of the democratic masses."

Pravda said "events connected with the so-called Wallace case etc." reveal that the forces of democracy are growing.

Will Receive Increases

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Seventy-five thousand cotton garment workers will receive wage increases averaging $4 a week and other benefits under an agreement announced yesterday by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (C.I.O.) and the industry.

The garment workers will get pay boosts averaging 10 cents an hour, a 65-cent-an-hour minimum and a second week's vacation with pay after one year's employment, the announcement said. The agreement is effective today.

Smith Arrest Has Been Sad Time for Several Motorists

Federal Recovery of Tires Leaves Some Cars Rubberless, Is Report

The aftermath to the arrest of James Smith, 40, of East Kingston, on a charge of theft of the United States mails, has been an unpleasant one for a score or more of East Kingston motorists.

Smith was taken to New York this afternoon from the Ulster County Court House by a United States Marshal.

Efforts are being made to raise $5,000 for his release on bail, it was said today.

Counsel for Smith is Attorney William A. Kelly of this city.

The sad experience for motorists happened when the Kingston police department's crack detectives, Wesley Cramer and Clarence Brophy, began tracing the disposition of a large number of automobile tires allegedly stolen from the U. S. mails by Smith.

The detectives visited East Kingston the day after Smith was arrested by federal postal inspectors and began systematic recovery of the tires. They were literally stripped from the many automobiles while the owners looked on helplessly. They had never suspected they were riding on "hot tires" they said.

Meanwhile Chief of Police Ernest Boss reported that approximately 50 of the allegedly stolen tires have been recovered.

The chief indicated that the tires were located as the result of a list of names Smith gave the authorities after he was picked up.

The possibility of a "fence" for the disposal of Smith's loot has not been discounted by Chief Boss, who indicated that a local man is under surveillance for possible connection with Smith's transactions. The chief said the case against the alleged "fence" has not been closed but he expected definite action in a few days.

Smith remains in the Ulster county jail unable to raise $5,000 bail set by U. S. Commissioner Martin F. Comeau when Smith was booked last week. A United States marshal is expected to take Smith to a federal prison in the next few days.

Decision Is Awaited

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Housewives scurrying for meat and politicians for votes cocked an ear to the White House for President Truman's decision tonight on what to do about getting steaks and roasts back.

Hours before the Chief Executive's all-network broadcast set for 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, the Republican party termed the scheduled address "political" and demanded radio time to reply.

While there was no clear-cut indication what Mr. Truman plans to say in his 15-minute discussion of stabilization and the meat problem, the issue before him boiled down to this:

Whether to scrap meat controls outright, as many Republicans and some Democratic leaders have demanded, or keep them unchanged.

Or, whether to compromise on some relaxation of controls involving perhaps higher ceilings, a bonus plan to induce marketing of livestock, and possibly importation of meat.

Mr. Truman is on record as firmly opposed to removal of O.P.A. controls. He took this stand September 26, but at a news conference last week he declined to comment when asked whether he had changed his mind.

One indication that he may have come from a high official who is familiar with the problem. He hinted to a reporter that top aides helping prepare Mr. Truman's speech met at the White House last night and that decontrol of meat is in the picture.

There has been speculation, moreover, that Mr. Truman might deal with wage controls, too, and possibly scrap that program.

On the other hand, among those playing an active part in drafting the President's statement are O.P.A. Administrator Paul Porter and Reconstruction Director John R. Steelman.

Porter has openly opposed removal of meat controls. Steelman, on the subject of controls generally, recently said that to

Says Truman Has Tied Up Radio 3 Weeks Before Election

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Aided by cabinet advisers, President Truman polished today a personal report to the nation on the meat shortage which has stirred up housewives and politicians alike.

Attorney General Clark and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson joined the White House group which already included Stabilization Director John R. Steelman and other presidential aides. Eben Ayres, White House secretary, told newsmen Mr. Truman still was working on his all-network broadcast set for 10 p. m. E.S.T. tonight.

The President's decision reportedly has been made but it is a closely kept White House secret. His apparent choices are these:

Outright scrapping of meat controls, recommended by many Republicans, some Democrats and most of the trade;

Relaxation of controls involving higher prices or some sort of bonus to bring livestock to market;

Importation of meat, perhaps in combination with other measures;

A stand-pat position behind the current stabilization measures.

So tight was the White House secrecy on the presidential conclusions that the best clue on the verdict was purely negative:

If higher price ceilings were involved, the O.P.A. was headed for a hurry-up job working out schedules. Only a few hours before the announcement time, the agency's price experts said they had not been advised to plan for any changes.

In the past when ceiling changes have been in sight, the O.P.A. staff usually has had advance notice on the chore. There are 27,000 items in the retail meat list alone.

Trade sources likewise professed to be in the dark. Spokesmen for packers and meat distributors said higher ceilings would be unexpected and a decontrol order would be a big surprise.

Price Aids Miners
Mexican miners, particularly in silver mines, will earn $8,000,000 more a year in wages, as a result of Washington's recent raising of the silver price, Mexico's Labor Minister, Francisco Trujillo Gurría, estimated in Mexico City. The price rise will assure profitable operation not only of silver mines but also of copper, zinc and lead properties, and the government will see to it that the workers get their full share of the increase, he said.

Eels Attack Gulls
When gulls stand on one leg at Upala Bank, on an island near Cuba, Australia, it probably is not because they choose to. Melbourne scientists declare. More likely, it is because they have only one leg to stand on. The island is the haunt of fierce barringer eels which attack the gulls when they alight on the water, and snap off their feet.

Financial and Commercial

Boston, Oct. 14 (AP)—Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the International Chamber of Commerce, outlined today an international economic plan calling for reduction of trade barriers, stabilization of foreign exchanges, removal of exchange controls on current transactions and formulation of beneficial foreign lending policies.

In an address prepared for the Boston Conference on Distribution, the chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank said we would be deluding ourselves by expecting the world to subscribe to these doctrines and added: "Doubtless the Soviet Union and her affiliated nations will retain either state trading or a rigid system of state control over exports and imports. Even so, there is still a large area of the world in which trade can take place freely among free men on the basis of free competitive enterprise."

The reduction of trade barriers, he said, not only required a lowering of tariffs but the elimination, as far as possible, of quotas, subsidies, import licenses, commodity agreements, and all other devices which divert international trade from its natural economic channels.

"Only by freeing international trade of its shackles can the greatest impetus be given to the dynamic economic forces of the world," Aldrich continued. "Only by such action can all people gain access to the raw materials and markets of the world and enjoy the wide markets and large scale production."

"I am confident that the nations of the world which share our attitude in these respects are numerous enough to make the trade area sizeable and effective." He declared the free peoples of the world must realize that not only their material welfare but their "very freedom is dependent upon the reflection of all steps towards economic self-sufficiency."

Colleen Aids Jockey

Because an Irish girl was "slimming" the King's jockey wore a new set of colors at Ascot this year. A Dublin tailor had been asked to make the set, as materials were not obtainable in England, and finally got all the colors needed except a piece of black silk velvet for the cap. The tailor finally found a woman who was on a diet and had an evening dress of just the material needed. She allowed him to cut the required piece out of the skirt.

Mrs. Scully, 31, was charged with disorderly conduct in using indecent language, and was sentenced to 30 days in jail when arraigned before Judge Matthew W. Cahill in police court today.

As the Scullys are the parents of six children, the judge deferred the hearing in the two charges against the husband until later. Judge Cahill in adjourning the hearings of the husband's cases, said he did not desire to have both parents confined at the same time as one of them had to look after the family while the other was in jail.

Premier Says Siamese Cabinet to Give Areas

Bangkok, Siam, Oct. 14 (AP)—Premier Thamrong Nawasawat announced today that the Siamese cabinet had decided to return four disputed border provinces to French Indo-China, ending a territorial quarrel of nearly five years standing.

A special emergency meeting of Parliament was called for this afternoon to ratify the cabinet's action. Approval was considered certain, for the premier said the measure was backed by the leaders of both major political parties.

The disputed territory represents some 20,000 square miles of the Indo-Chinese states of Laos and Cambodia, which Siam obtained in 1941 under a Japanese-negotiated treaty with the Vichy French government.

The post-war French government has refused to recognize the treaty.

The disputed frontier has been the scene of sporadic fighting between Siamese and French colonial forces. The Siamese have accused the French of wanton aggression in the dispute and last July appealed to the United Nations Security Council to intervene.

Siam has claimed the disputed territory, which borders the Mekong river, on the ground it originally was Siamese and was ceded to the French empire in 1907 under compulsion.

The French Colonial Administration has maintained a "technical state of war" exists between Siam and French Indo-China.

Cigarette Smokers Set Firemen's Chairs Ablaze

Freeport, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—A man borrowed a nickel at a lunchroom yesterday to telephone firemen that their headquarters was on fire.

Later, acting on descriptions given them, police picked the man up who explained that, having no home, he simply had walked into a second floor office, curled up in two overstuffed chairs and had fallen asleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand.

As a result, fire headquarters was without two upholstered chairs.

The man, with no charges against him, was asked to find sleeping quarters elsewhere.

Shows Police $725,820

This man wearing dark glasses was arrested by Chicago police and identified by Police Lt. John Murphy as Elmer Steward Hurt, 22, of Miami, Fla., after he had led them to a railroad station locker and hotel room containing $725,820 in cash and negotiable money orders. Murphy said Hurt is sought by Miami authorities on warrants charging him with embezzlement. (AP Wirephoto)

Chaplains Visit Condemned Nazis

Clergymen of Lutheran, Catholic Faith Pray

Nuernberg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Religious solace was administered by chaplains yesterday in the death cells of nine of the condemned Nazis who face execution Wednesday, but was refused by Julius Streicher and Alfred Rosenberg, who preferred to spend their final Sabbath reading books.

Confessions from the Catholic members of the condemned group were heard by the Rev. Sixtus O'Connor. The remainder of the 18 Germans sentenced to hang or to serve prison terms were visited by the Rev. H. F. Gerecke, German Lutheran clergyman, who read prayers to them.

The convicted Nazis were told officially yesterday that the Allied Control Council, their last court of resort, had denied their appeals for clemency, or—in some cases—for death by the firing squad instead of hanging. The prisoners, most of whom had heard the news previously from their wives, took it stoically.

Capt. Sam Binder, a prison security officer, said that as yet no gallows had been erected within the prison confines for the execution of Streicher, Rosenberg, Herman Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Wilhelm Keitel, Ernest Kaltenbrunner, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, Fritz Sauckel, Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl and Arthur Seyss-Inquart.

Binder said prison medical authorities had certified to the good health of all the condemned men.

V.A. Reports Sharp Drop in Jobless Checks

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Veterans Administration today reported another sharp drop in the number of ex-G.I.'s drawing jobless paychecks.

There were 1,237,116 claims during the week ended October 5 compared with 1,305,413 in the preceding week and nearly 1,800,000 during the April peak.

Under the G.I. Bill of Rights, veterans are allowed to draw $20 a week payments for 52 weeks if they are out of work.

BRILLIANT RECORD

Aggressive, plain-spoken Joe R. Hanley is the Republican Party's candidate for lieutenant governor. With a brilliant legislative record of his own as his platform, and with the wholehearted support of the Dewey administration, he became lieutenant governor in 1943 by defeating his A.L.P.-Democratic opponent in a special election by more than 363,000 votes. His sweeping victory was hailed everywhere as an indication that the people of New York State desired to keep the Dewey team intact at Albany.

As a lawyer, a clergyman, a soldier and a legislator, Joe R. Hanley has been a man of action all his life. He has crusaded against religious and racial intolerance; he has fought for laws to improve the lot of the working man. Because he had always been considerate of labor's problems, the New York State Federation not only endorsed his candidacy in 1943, but worked aggressively for his election.

Joe Hanley has always operated on the theory that when there is a job to be done, best do it yourself rather than to leave it to someone else. This he ably demonstrated during his four years as the astute floor leader of the State Senate, the very years when the state government was gearing its every effort and function to the gigantic national effort to win the war. It was the exercise of leadership such as his that developed New York State into a great offensive weapon which helped so mightily in the courageous struggle to overcome the evil forces of totalitarianism.

Known as a fearless man to tangle with in debate and a tough, hard fighter, Joe Hanley had just returned from the Spanish-American War when the decent-thinking people of Muscatine, Iowa, asked him to help them in their fight against the Ku Klux Klan. This he did, talking right through a rock bombardment at one anti-Klan meeting and managing to dodge all the missiles although they took out every pane of glass in the hall. The course he followed then is the course he's traveled ever since, straight and true. Because he charted such an admirable course is the reason why today he is universally hailed as the man qualified for the office of lieutenant governor by experience, by thorough knowledge of the state's affairs, by the devoted interest of most of a lifetime, by character and by all-around merit.

He served five years in the Assembly, from 1927 to 1932, and the latter year was elected to the Senate. Seven years later, Mr. Hanley became majority leader. As majority leader, Mr. Hanley became president pro tem of the Senate, so that on the death of Lieutenant Governor Wallace, Mr. Hanley automatically became acting lieutenant governor.

It's funny, how many people say they like sky-flying, where they can't see or hear or do anything.

MEAT

Meat—meat—who's got the meat? There is a good deal of mystery about this question, mystery which the public would like to have explained. There must be much of it held away in expectation of higher prices when it is sold. This is one of the things that gripe the American public.

What is needed most, in this matter, is a frank showdown, exposing hoarders and food gamblers and putting everybody as nearly as possible on the same basis. Obviously there should be more honest and intelligent action at Washington, to make the facts plain.

Those cows bawling in the meadow are naturally complaining because too much milk is expected of them.

INVENTORY

A healthy, strong country can afford to face the facts of its existence; a weak and conquered country has missed the time when it can do anything about the facts. A nation dependent upon other countries for support, even for its food, is not in a position to determine its own future. The United States is the most powerful nation on earth but this is also true: from 1929 to 1939, the United States was in a state of depression, with an average unemployment of about 19,000,000. No plan of government, nothing proposed or done by private resources, ended this depression. But the war did end it.

From 1939 to this moment, we have had a war of prosperity. But there are many false factors in that. First, we have increased our national debt from about $45,000,000,000 in 1939 to $283,000,000,000 now. In fact, by certain calculations, the debt of our government is now about $300,000,000,000. Secondly, we are suffering from an inflation in prices and the disappearance of goods to such an extent that the people lack essential foods such as meat, and industry lacks essential raw materials and semi-manufactured commodities. Thirdly, an extravagantly large part of the population (including those benefiting from the G. I. Bill of Rights) are living on government subsidy. Fourthly, all American industry, including automobiles, railroads and possibly steel, will probably come out in the red for the year 1946. In other words, while we possess large savings and seem to be well off, we are actually in a state of depression. This country, in fact, except during the war years, has not been able to get out of a condition of economic depression, with its concomitant social and political overtones. Unless we grasp this essential fact and realize that only by war were we given even the appearance of prosperity, we cannot understand our present status.

The New Deal had a program for ending the depression which, though it failed, might have succeeded had we changed our form of government from a free to a controlled system, to what the current New Dealers call "directed democracy." They failed because they could not reorganize this into a Fascist state. George Bernard Shaw very wisely states it in his book, "Everybody's Political What's What."

"... A movement grew up to steal the thunder of the Socialists and substitute State Capitalism for private Capitalism while maintaining private property with all its privileges intact, and buying off the proletariat with doles and higher wages. This movement was called Fascism in Italy, and National Socialism in Germany, in both of which countries it captured and financed proletarian leaders and put them in command of the government; namely, Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler. In England and America, where it was much less lucid, it was called The New Deal and the New Order, thus securing a footing in both the democratic and plutocratic camps, but at the cost of a war with Italy and Germany for European hegemony."

But we cannot afford to win prosperity either by totalitarianism or by war. The cost in human liberties and the standard of living of the people is too high. Another war will increase our national debt and the taxes of the people beyond our capacity to continue to maintain our standard of living or our present political institutions based upon human liberty. This then is a time for inventory. The politicians reject inventory as they reject thought. They fear a disclosure of the facts as they fear an appraisal of the facts. What is our money really worth? What has happened to our natural resources, wood, coal, iron, zinc, copper, etc? What has happened to our manpower, to its inefficiency, its ability to produce goods? What is the danger to our world position, politically and economically, because of our price structure and our competitive powers, vis-a-vis other producing countries? We need an over-all, non-political, non-partisan, non-ideological analysis of our continuing depression that we may know how to correct errors in our system without altering our form of government. There is still time to take this inventory. Do we have the intelligence to take it?

CANCER OF THE MOUTH

Although a patient with a sore mouth usually consults a physician and dentist the sore may not be painful and he may not consult physician or dentist for weeks or months. Unfortunately cancer of the mouth may not be painful and these weeks or months of delay may allow the cancer to advance to the state where neither surgery nor radium can save life.

Although most dentists recognize cancer of the mouth and refer the patient to his physician, nevertheless some dentists (and physicians also) hesitate to call a condition cancer until it has reached an advanced condition.

What are the symptoms of mouth cancer? In the Journal of the American Dental Association Dr. Hayes Martin, Attending Surgeon, Memorial Hospital, New York gives following description:

"Early cancer of the lining of the mouth is characterized by the appearance of a small hard lump or ulcer which spreads through the tissues in which it arises. When the lump or ulcer occurs on a fixed part of the mouth such as the gum or hard palate there may not be any pain or tenderness for weeks sometimes months after the patient has noticed the sore for months. In other more movable structures of the mouth, especially where nerve endings are present in large numbers—tongue, floor of mouth or the cheek—pain may be one of the early symptoms or even the first symptom." In any case pain in the mouth cancer does not occur until infection from an ulcerated growth has taken place. Most other ulcerated conditions of the mouth—Vincent's infection (trench mouth), tuberculosis, injury to the gums—are more painful in the early stages. In fact cancer of the mouth is less angry, less dangerous looking than the harmless sores or growths. In later stages there is great damage to the mouth structures.

The thought, then, is that every sore in the mouth should be investigated by dentist or physician as early treatment gives brilliant results, while delay may mean disfigurement and even death.

"A Century's Turn"

By IL L. VAN DEUSEN

That Kingston has excellent singers and actors during the turn of the century a glance through old files of The Freeman clearly shows.

Two of the most interesting amateur shows in 1903, were the light operas "The Chimes of Normandy" and "Fra Diavolo" both staged in the old Kingston Opera House.

On March 11 and 12, of that year, "The Chimes of Normandy" was given with great success under the auspices of Wiltwyck Hose Co.

Among the principals in the cast were Mrs. Margaretta D. Banta, Sara M. Burnham, Chris K. Loughran, Elmer A. Burger, Lawrence Clinton, Edward McCrumish, Righter Zelliff, Clarence H. Peters, Mabel Day, Anna Horton Britt, Vernon Shaw, and Leo Herbert.

Those who took the parts of peasants and servants were Hattie Farrell, Margaret Patterson, Margaret Cable, Nellie Chappell, Lillian Klotze, Eleanor Klotze, Mary Clinton, Lottie King, Mary E. King, Mrs. Anna McCurnie, Mary Dugan, Kathryn Bruck, Kathryn Kiehl, Mrs. Fred Woehr, Mrs. E. D. Tremper, Flora Steinfield, Irene Steinfield, Mrs. J. C. Breil, Crawford Klotze, Percy Johnson and Harry Van Buren.

Those portraying the soldiers in the opera were George Hendricks, William J. Reilly, Grant L. Hayes, Sherwood Smith, Dr. A. L. Hill, Harry Clearwater, Frank Klotze, George Van Buren, Mason L. Cline, Henry Hopper, W. H. Guilfoill, W. A. Brockway, Fred Woehr, William Dunningan, Charles Britt, Vernon Shaw and Fletcher Freleigh.

The director of the opera was Joseph Carl Breil. Charles A. Shultz, widely known brick manufacturer, died in his home on West Chestnut street, on April 10, 1903.

Mr. Shultz and his brother, George, came to Kingston in 1878, and opened a brickyard at East Kingston. Prior to that the brothers had been engaged in the brick business at Haverstraw and in New Jersey.

During the years Mr. Shultz was a resident of Kingston he was active in civic affairs and had served as a member of the alms board. At the time of his death he was serving as vice president of the Citizens Standard Telephone Co., and was active in Masonic affairs as a member of Roundout Lodge of Kingston and of the Temple of Albany.

Older readers will recall the years when the city had two telephone companies, the Citizens Standard and the Hudson River. In later years both companies were consolidated, and now form a part of the New York Telephone Co. system.

Secretary Patterson's A.F.L. Speech Is Considered Man
Forthright Since Nuernberg Trial and Follows
Jackson Pattern

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 14—American cabinet officers are beginning to call a spade a spade in world affairs nowadays. Perhaps the most forthright speech since the Nuernberg trial that has come from any source is that which has just been delivered by Secretary of War Robert Patterson before the American Federation of Labor.

The address follows somewhat the same reasoning as that of Justice Jackson. While there is not a single mention of the Soviets, the reader is able to see plainly the thesis—that as long as totalitarianism and suppression of civil liberties is a national policy anywhere in the world among powerful nations, America cannot afford to demobilize completely.

"This country," said Mr. Patterson, "cannot safely disarm while other nations maintain powerful forces. Military weakness has never led to peace. Running away in the face of aggression has never prevented involvement in war. We have tried weakness; we have tried appeasement; and we have been thrust into war after war."

The secretary then referred to the "lasting significance in the punishment of the leaders who launched a war of aggression." He added that the Nuernberg trial "marks the end of the doctrine that in cases of war guilt, the higher-ups, the people who have set in motion the machinery to plunge the world into war, should not be touched."

Nothing could be plainer than the implications of that statement to all other countries where the seeds of aggressive war may be sown by totalitarian governments. On this point, Mr. Patterson, again without mentioning any country, says:

"There is a deeper significance. It was clearly brought out at the trial that those Nazi leaders could not have carried their plan forward if they had not first suppressed liberty in their own land. Their first step was to put down freedom of speech and freedom of the press, which meant that Germans received only such information as the conspirators saw fit to let them have. They knew full well that only by control of information or misinformation could they bring their people to support a war program. In no nation, not even in Germany, do the mass of the people want war, unless they have been persuaded that someone has done them a great injury or is about to attack them. The Nazi leaders were able to sell the German people on war by tall tales of the Czechs attacking Germany, the Poles attacking Germany—lies that would not have been believed if there had been a free press in Germany."

"In the long run the greatest measure in prevention of war will be the spread of free speech and free press throughout the world. When men are at liberty to give and receive information, and to take part in discussion, and without the hand of the secret police on their shoulders, and without dread of the knock on the door in the night that means the start of the journey to the concentration camp, it will do more to prevent anything else to prevent a ruling group at the top from throwing the manpower and the resources of a great nation into aggressive warfare. When that time comes, and I am confident that it will come, we need have no great concern about involvement in war. It is not yet at hand, however, and in the meantime we must rely on our own readiness and resources."

"The United Nations, which means a world organized for peace, offers us a concrete program for relief from recurrence of war. If it is firmly supported by the great powers, the chances are bright that we will see no more wholesale slaughter. But until we can be sure that the necessary support will be forthcoming, it stands to reason that we must look to our own defenses for our security. When all is said and done, it is our ability to protect ourselves that counts in a world that still talks in terms of planes, tanks and guns."

"I cannot say too much stress on the importance of showing to the world, friend or foe, the readiness of the United States to defend itself. In the present day and age, that readiness is the most effective guarantee of peace that can be devised. No foreign power, no combination of powers, will go to war with the United States or will follow policies that involve the risk of war with us, if they look us over and conclude that their prospects of success in a fight with us are not good."

AFL Near Decision On Price Controls

President Green States O.P.A. Works Against Labor's Interests

By NORMAN WALKER
 Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor neared an important convention decision today on whether to come out for immediate removal of price and wage controls.

A.F.L. President William Green urged the action in his keynote convention address. He contended the present O.P.A. law was working out against labor's interests and that workers now would be better off without controls.

However, there appeared to be some A.F.L. rank-and-file opposition to Green's idea though he usually speaks for the A.F.L. officials. The day after he made his recommendation the A.F.L. Brotherhood of Painters and Paperhangers asked the delegates to urge the government to strengthen the present O.P.A. law.

Whatever action the convention takes, and it seems certain Green's position will be followed, will be significant. Until now both the A.F.L. and C.I.O. have favored firm Federal control on prices though relaxed control on wages.

The Washington administration might look at formal A.F.L. confirmation of Green's position as a split among O.P.A. supporters sufficiently meaningful to be an argument for removing most controls.

At least some A.F.L. delegates felt that may be the governmental reaction.

The stand taken by Green is that he always favored a price control law as a means of stalling off inflation until the nation could more nearly balance off the pent-up demand for goods and remove most of the price pressure. But he said the present law was too weak to keep prices down, could be classed as a "profit-promoting measure," and thus should be abandoned.

He said he did favor retaining "perhaps continued control of rent and some other items comparable to that."

If the A.F.L. endorses lifting controls over both prices and wages, as Green advocated, the organization may pull its members from the National Wage Stabilization Board, thus further crippling the wage-judging group from which industry members resigned last week.

Street Car Operators, Bus Drivers, to Vote

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Idle street car operators and bus drivers gathered today—on the 21st day of a power strike which Mayor David L. Lawrence called the city's worst disaster since the 1936 flood—to vote on returning to work.

Approximately 2,700 members of the A.F.L. Amalgamated Association of Electric Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees, have stayed away from work 18 days rather than cross picket lines set up at car barns by striking employees of the Duquesne Light Co., who belong to an independent union.

The street car men held a mail vote over the week-end. Results were to be counted this afternoon but union officials said today's meeting was called "to expedite the voting."

The question of accepting the power company's offer to arbitrate the long-standing wage dispute will come before a union meeting tonight which, defiant striking members called although the union leadership refused to order or sanction such a gathering.

Buffalo Meat Goes On Sale in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Oct. 14 (AP)—A Minneapolis grocery-meat retail store offered 10,000 pounds of buffalo meat for sale today on a "first-come, first-served, no-limit" basis but asked for special police details to handle the crowds of meat-hungry housewives.

Although the meat was offered at prices from 75 cents to $2 per pound for choice cuts, store officials expected more than 5,000 eager buyers at their one loop store. A smaller crowd was expected at an outlying branch.

The meat, purchased by the Witt Market, one of the city's larger food outlets, is from 33 buffalo obtained from the private buffalo herd of Charles A. Ward, president of Brown & Bigelow, St. Paul calendar manufacturing firm.

Warren Witt, store official, said that because buffalo meat is classed

The case before him was C. J. Kastner's $50 damage suit against James E. Trask.

Bamboozling the Baboons

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Brookfield Zoo's baboons prefer the outdoor "monkey isle" to their cages so every autumn attendants have a job getting them indoors.

To meet this problem, Inventor Hollis Jeffries perfected a "baboon trap." The baboon, attracted by his reflection in a big mirror, walks through an automatic door into a Plexiglass compartment.

A movable wall raises to admit the Simian to a second compartment. When the partition comes down, the baboon is trapped and the front door opens to the next customer.

Zoo attendants hope it works.

as a luxury item, it is not subject to O.P.A. control. He said the meat cost two and a half times more than top grade beef ceiling, necessitating correspondingly higher retail prices. He said the meat is highly flavored although tasting much like beef.

Auto Dealers Want Complete Removal of O.P.A.

Albany, Oct. 14—The New York State Automobile Dealers today called for the complete removal of the O.P.A., which it charged is hampering production and forcing legitimate dealers out of business.

Carl E. Fribley, of Norwich, president of the dealer organization, said the number of long established dealers who have given up their businesses because of O.P.A. mismanagement is steadily increasing and is a "real threat to the American system of free enterprise."

The dealer organization has continuously supported the edicts of O.P.A., Mr. Fribley stated. "Our members have abided by price ceilings, and fought the black market—and, as a result of this, are losing money."

"We have given the O.P.A. a fair chance, but it has failed to keep down prices and, what is worse, has hamstringing the production which would have kept down prices."

Termining the O.P.A. price rulings "as impossible to enforce as the Volstead Act," Mr. Fribley said most of the used car business is now being carried on by bootleggers "who have the cars to sell and can make a profit in their above-ceiling purchases."

"Since the public has showed it is willing to pay higher prices to purchase cars, the business should go to the legitimate dealer, not to the fly-by-night who is now getting rich by his fraudulent deals. And the only way for the legitimate dealer to get the sales is by removal of arbitrary and impossible price ceilings."

Mr. Fribley said dealers were being hampered not only by price rulings, but also by limited supplies of cars, which he stated is also the result of O.P.A. policy.

He pointed out that ceilings on raw materials have kept a number of products in short supply, in some cases creating artificial demands because of the low prices set. In addition, he charged that the lack of similar ceilings on wages have raised production costs and have created industrial unrest that has seriously hampered production.

No matter how high prices rise for the first few months after O.P.A. controls are lifted, they will be no higher than the prices the public is now paying the black market operator for needed cars," Mr. Fribley stated. "At the same time, the removal of controls and the resulting free competition will soon force prices back to their natural level."

The longer O.P.A. is in effect, keeping down production and forcing legitimate dealers to abandon their businesses, the harder it will be to return to true competition. Bureaucracy is no substitute for production, and the bureaucrats, having failed, should be stopped while we can still salvage our economy."

Ives Says Truman Setup Has Upset Country's Economy

Efforts to 'Check' Nation's Activity Has Choked Agriculture, Business, Industry

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—The Truman administration has "upset" the country's economy by its "attempts to keep it in check," Irving M. Ives, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, asserted.

The retiring Assembly majority leader, addressing the Pulaski Republican Club, declared last night that under Republican leadership the United States could "throw off the choking regulations which are throttling agriculture, business and industry."

"There are no problems in our postwar world," he said, "which will resist solution if they are approached with intelligence, determination, administrative skill and... faith in our system of free competitive enterprise. The present Democratic party shows a woeful lack of all these qualities. It has no faith in our system of free competitive enterprise. That is why the controls have not come off. The Truman administration is afraid to trust the people. Fascinated by its creed of paternalism, it fears that if controls are removed, the people will upset the country's economy. These men seem not to realize our economy has been upset already by their own attempts to keep it in check."

The nation, Ives declared, "has had enough of the Truman administration of scarcity, whether it is planned, or simply the sorry result of unplanned ineptitude."

Committee Studies
How to Overcome
Clandestine Acts

Lake Success, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—The problem of how to prevent clandestine operations in atomic energy occupied the attention of the political committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission today as delegates were called into session to begin a detailed study of safeguards necessary to restrict use of atomic power to peaceful purposes.

The agenda for the 3:30 p. m. (EST.) meeting contained a Canadian resolution, previously unanimously adopted, providing for a thorough examination of three possible kinds of mission—clandestine operations, diversion of materials and seizure of materials or facilities.

The Canadian plan recommended a complete checkup at every stage of production from the mines up.

The United States delegation was expected to submit another memorandum—this one amplifying the question of controls and stressing the necessity for a strict system.

Meanwhile, the Security Council will go back into public session tomorrow for the first time in three weeks to debate eligibility for the international court of justice.

Arguments hinge around Russian-Polish opposition to allowing Franco Spain, which is barred from U.N. membership, from having access to the agency's court. The position of the United States and generally of the other delegates was that the question is juridical and not political and that all countries should have rights of entry to a court of justice.

As the October 23 meeting of the general assembly neared, New York city announced it was campaigning to get the assembly to change its decision on a site and locate permanently within the city. New York wants the U.N. to take over the old World's Fair site in Flushing, where interim headquarters have been established for the assembly, as a permanent home for the entire U.N.

INSURANCE ON ENGAGEMENT RING

The writer of the following question gives me no inkling as to which of the four persons concerned it comes from: "Who should put insurance on an engagement ring? The man, the girl, his family or hers?"

The only answer I know is the substitution of the word "can" for "should." If the man is easily able to add a permanent yearly payment to the ring's cost, he does. Of if she or her family can, perhaps they do. I never have heard of any man's family undertaking this obligation, but for all I know, many may have done so. The number of insured rings that I know about is very small.

Employer's Son Unpopular

Dear Mrs. Post: How can a young man's attentions be discouraged without unpleasantness? This man is the boss's son and works in our offices. For the sake of my job, I don't want to create any sort of "situation." At the same time I do not wish to have him pay me attentions at the office and I don't want to go out with him. His reputation has not been the best in town and moreover, he is personally repugnant to me. I can't say this to him and he has not been discouraged by my firm but polite refusals.

Answer: This may be the exceptional case when good manners are ill-advised and the coldest refusal is your only reply, short of changing your job.

Payment for Party

Dear Mrs. Post: The mother of a friend of mine is having an informal party for me before I go away for my second semester at school. What should I do for my friend or for her mother?

Forks and Spoons

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly tell me the correct placing of a fork and a teaspoon for a luncheon where a knife is not required?

Chinese Federalists Capture Hwailai In Bitter Battle

Other Troops Drive Across Jehol Province and Seize Dolon North of Kalgan

Peiping, Oct. 14 (AP)—Government forces striving to clear the railroad between captured Kalgan and the Great Wall captured Hwailai after bitter street fighting and marched unopposed through two smaller towns, front-line government dispatches reported today.

Other troops driving northwestward across Jehol province seized the rail and highway hub of Dolon on the Jehol-Chahar border 130 miles north of Kalgan.

The Communists, however, clamped a new siege on long-battered Tating in northern Shansi, south of Kalgan, and had the Hsiping provincial capital of Paoting effectively isolated as fighting flared along 50 miles of the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Communist capture of Yuan-shih, 20 miles south of Shih-chiahuang, was acknowledged.

Heavy fighting with considerable casualties was reported at Kaopetien, 45 miles south of Peiping. The Communists were destroying railroad bridges and carrying the rails into the hills.

Communist broadcasts made the unsubstantiated claim that three government armies lost more than 10,000 men in the 12-day fight for Kalgan. No estimate of Red losses was given.

The Communist radio at Yenai, while admitting loss of Kalgan, insisted yesterday that "Chiang Kai-Shek can never clear the railroads or highways," because "his frontlines are too far-flung and will become more so with all-out civil war."

By taking Kalgan, the broadcast said, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek "militarily and politically has swallowed a bomb."

Communists meanwhile continued their siege of Paoting, Hsiping provincial capital. Government leaders said they were not alarmed, but the Chinese press reported a mysterious paralysis epidemic there had caused 50 quick deaths.

Renewal of the Communist siege of Tating, rail center in northern Shansi, was reported by both sides. The Communists claimed capture of a railroad station 10 miles north of Tating and two industrial centers six miles to the west.

The original Communist attack on Tating, which was besieged for weeks, precipitated a reprisal of the form of a nationalist drive on the major Red cities of Chengteh and Kalgan.

Hoover Says Finland Can't Pay Indemnity

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Herbert Hoover, in a statement issued yesterday, asserted Finland would be unable to pay the $300,000,000 war indemnity to Russia that has been recommended by a Paris Peace Conference reparations committee.

Hoover said America is Finland's "only possible friend" and asked why the U. S. had "raised no effective voice" to help the Finns.

The former President said Finland has 800,000 persons who are destitute and dependent upon the 2,600,000 other residents of the country.

"They cannot pay this indemnity and buy the food and clothes they must import to live," he said. "If they default, they, too, will disappear behind the iron curtain."

Mistrial Motion Is Denied Today At Caraway Trial

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—A request for a mistrial in the case of Ward Beecher Caraway, 23-year-old Negro butler charged with playing socially prominent Mrs. Marjory Church Logan, was denied today by Judge Henry J. A. Collins as the hearing of testimony began.

Charles R. Weeks, counsel for Caraway, made the request. He declared that District Attorney James N. Gehrig, in outlining his case against the defendant to the all-white jury of married men, had made an "inflammatory statement."

Gehrig had declared that Caraway shot Mrs. Logan on July 24 at the home in the Flower Hill section of Long Island, that he then obtained money from her daughter, Marjory Jeanne, and that Miss Logan then "submitted to his instructions and commands."

The 26-year-old young woman, a former War sergeant and a member of the Junior League, told police that Caraway raped and then shot her. Police said Caraway denied raping the young woman.

Weeks said Caraway was on trial only for the alleged shooting of Mrs. Logan and that the reference to Miss Logan was not pertinent.

Judge Collins ruled that Gehrig, in his discussion of events, was trying to establish "a line of felony" and that his statement was therefore admissible.

Weeks, who had obtained a short postponement in the trial last week because he was suffering from a cold, became ill in a corridor outside the courtroom during a short recess declared after Judge Collins' ruling.

The defense attorney said he had summoned a physician to attend him at the court.

Gehrig is asking for a verdict of first degree murder, which would carry the death penalty. Miss Logan is expected to be a chief prosecution witness.

Caraway, whose family lives in Charlotte, N. C., is alleged to have killed Mrs. Logan after demanding money from her.

The European world obtained the word dynasty from the then ruling dynasty known as Chin.

Vatican Renounces Catholics Involved In Stepinac Trial

Vatican City, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Congregation of the Council proclaimed the excommunication of all Catholic Yugoslav officials who were connected "physically or morally" with the arrest and trial of Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac.

An announcement said this, excommunication was ipso facto (by the fact itself).

The Archbishop, convicted of war crimes by a Zagreb people's court last week, is under sentence of 16 years' imprisonment with forced labor.

There was no indication that the penalty of excommunication applied to Premier Marshal Tito. A prelate said last week the Vatican had no information that Tito was, or even had been, a Catholic.

American Forces Poise for Maneuver On Japanese Coast

Tokyo, Oct. 14 (AP)—American "invasion" forces were poised today for their biggest maneuver of the occupation, a mock landing on the coastal point picked for the real thing about a year ago.

The four-day operation involving land, sea and air forces will go through the motions of a mighty genuine assault, complete with a naval bombardment of the coast, a rocket and incendiary assault from the air and "invasion" of the mainland by paratroopers and combat teams unloaded from landing craft.

Evacuated to a safe distance, Japanese civilians could well imagine the might of an American landing operation had Japan not surrendered.

Maroon Jayvees Trim Port Jervis in Opener Saturday, 13 to 0

Keating Tallies Both Touchdowns In Stadium Game

Gruner-Mahalic '11' Shows Plenty of Drive; Locals' Blocking and Tackling Aids in Victory

Although Kingston High School fortunes in the football world are still sadly lacking as far as varsity competition is concerned, there's many a happy player and rooter this morning following Saturday afternoon's clash at municipal stadium when the Maroon and White Jayvees plunked out a convincing 13 to 0 victory over Port Jervis.

Under the capable tutelage of Coaches John Mahalic and Al Gruner who came to K.H.S. with Willard Burke and Russ Cunningham, the Jayvees played like real champs Saturday in registering their opening triumph of the 1946 campaign. Tackling, blocking and other phases which have been very rusty on their big brothers play, was down to a perfection Saturday.

Keating Scores Twice

Johnny Keating, sub back for Bill Savaski at left half, was the one man scoring show for the Maroon Jayvees in that victory. Keating intercepted a Port Jervis pass in the second period and clicked off a run of 30 yards to register the first touchdown of the game. It was Keating again in the third period. In the lineup again for period. In the lineup again for period. In the lineup again for period.

Saturday's game at the stadium was the only home encounter of the year for the combined Mahalic-Gruner charges. Next Saturday they'll travel to Warwick to meet the varsity team of that school.

Press Box Jottings

After the nightmare the night before when Middletown lambasted the K.H.S. varsity gridgers, it was a real source of enjoyment to the crowd of about 400 who braved the inclement weather to watch the Jayvees in action. The future varsity eleven material responded in spectacular style, too. Observers who watched from the stands and sidelines were quick to agree that perhaps Coach Willard Burke might use the Jayvee aggregation in future varsity encounters. That may sound a bit strong but the results couldn't be any worse than they have been the last couple of weeks when the Jayvees were trampled by Highland and Middletown. The poor weather field down the crowd to a minimum. A morning rain and damp feeling at the park brought only 200 paid admissions through the turnstiles while about 150 more jumped the fences. One observer who saw the game said, "considering it was the team's first game of the year, plus the fact that practically all of the players are newcomers, the team played excellent ball. The Jayvees, in showing a lot of snap and spirit, demonstrated good drive in beating Port Jervis' ragged squad." The Jayvees' passing attack, despite the wet turf, also appeared sturdy and a few good gains were registered through the air. Keating's second touchdown came as a result of a pass thrown by Danahy. Saturday's opening day victory by the Mahalic-Gruner charges casts a pretty bright picture for future football teams at Kingston High School.

The starting lineups: Port Jervis—Niles, Smith, Salomon, Cuddeback, Reilly, Freytag, Westfall, Crowley, Pagano, Berthiaume, Platt.

Kingston—LE—Rice, LT—Griffin, LG—Goercke, C—Benicasse, RG—Christman, RT—Meyers, QB—Webber, RB—Ebelheiser, LHB—Savaski, RHB—Danahy, FB—Nelson.

Car. Truck Collide
A car driven by Joseph Gross of 755 Hunterdon avenue, Newark, N. J., and a truck of Paul LaRue, Vanderhoe of Riverside Tourist Camp, Niagara Falls, were in collision at 1 o'clock this morning a mile north of Highland on Route 9-W. Mrs. Clara Gross was taken to Poughkeepsie to a hospital for treatment of lacerations. Corporal William Martin and Trooper Austin made an investigation.

Ed Ward Finishes First Again as Locals Down Monticello, 20-35; Newburgh Next

Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroon and White cross country team is enjoying success this season. Friday afternoon at Monticello the hill duffers registered their second straight triumph of the year by defeating the Monties, 20 to 35.

Newburgh Here Friday
Friday's encounter with Monticello served as Kingston's final tune-up before next Friday's important meet with Newburgh Free Academy here at municipal stadium.

Ed Ward, who finished in first place last week in the Beacon meet, clocked off another first Friday in the time of 13:33 for the day and one-half mile jaunt. Kingston had eight men in the first 10 finishers.

Ward was followed in by Bernie Stahl, another Maroon runner while Rosen of Monticello placed third. Dick Van Bruner, Kingston, and Blatt, Monticello, completed the first five.

Unbeaten Ranks to Be Thinned After October 19

Next Saturday's Grid Games, Find Some Tough Opposition for Top Teams

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—That dwindling collection of unbeaten football teams, thinned last Saturday by the fall of such stalwarts as Michigan, Yale, Stanford and St. Mary's, is due for another reduction this week when some of the better all-victorious outfits come to grips with each other.

Having met and mastered Michigan 20-13, Army returns to West Point to find its bid for a 23rd consecutive victory challenged by a Columbia team that is making a habit of spoiling perfect records.

The Lions ran their own victory string to three games Saturday by bouncing Yale out of the unbeaten class, 28-20, just a week after they had put the first blotch of the season on Navy's slate.

Texas, which had all it could handle in turning back Oklahoma 20-13 for its fourth win in a row, now must meet the invasion of an Arkansas team which blanked Baylor 13-0 and is unbeaten in four starts, although once tied.

Alabama and Tennessee, undefeated favorites in the Southeastern conference, collide at Knoxville. Both teams warmed up to this one with breathless, Alabama breezing through Southwest Louisiana 54-0 and Tennessee swamping Chattanooga 47-7.

U.C.L.A., which put the first dent in Stanford's hopes for a Pacific Coast conference title, 26-6, moves in against California, the team that knocked St. Mary's out of the unbeaten ranks in a 20-13 upset.

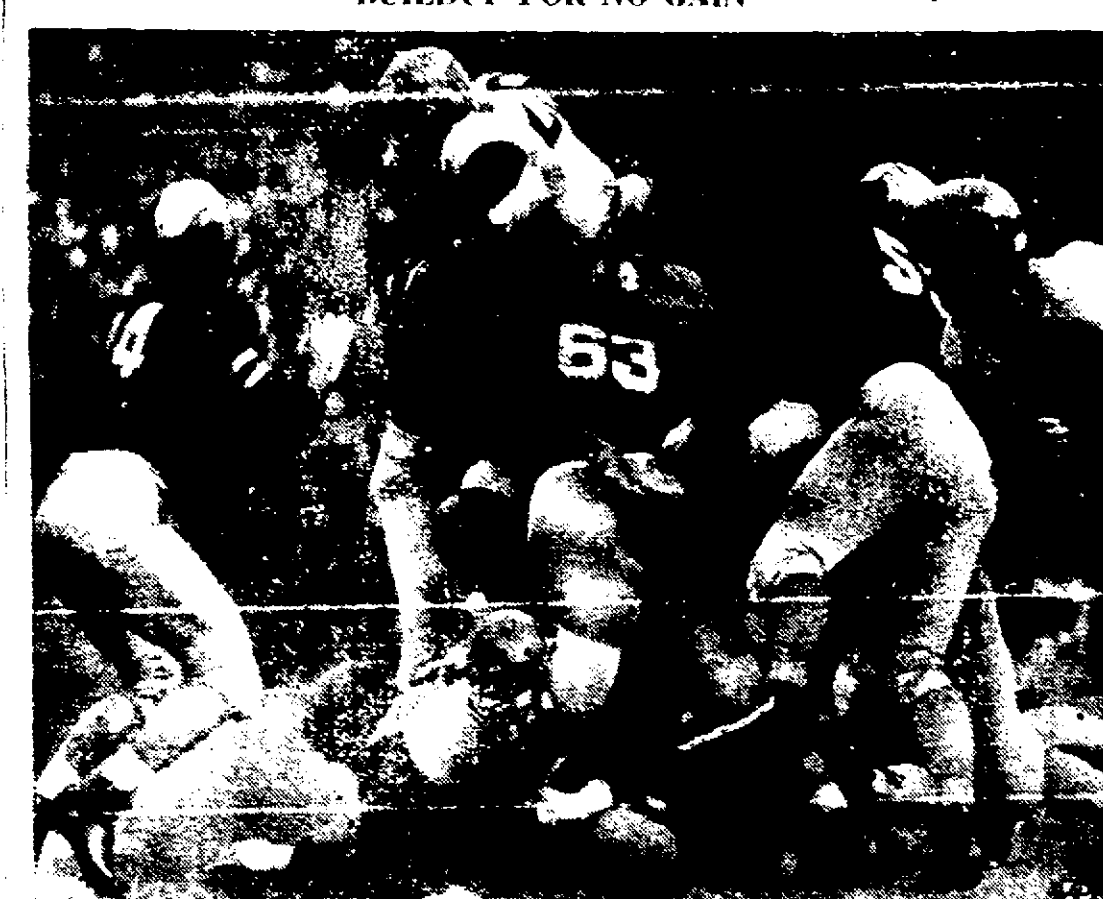

About the only major all-victorious eleven that won't be in any immediate danger this week is powerful Notre Dame. The Irish, who routed Purdue 49-6 for victory No. 3, are idle this week, awaiting their invasion of Iowa October 26.

The Columbia-Army fust headlines Saturday's program, which also includes several interconference games. Virginia, 19-8 victor over VMI, invades power-laden, undefeated Pennsylvania, which handed Dartmouth its first loss 39-6.

About 15 billion dollars worth of U. S. property has gone up in smoke since 1900.

Gobeo Leads Middies to 18-0 Win Over K. A. A. Team Sunday

Former DUSO Star Flips Three Scoring Passes; Locals Meet Newburgh Here Next Sunday

Middletown, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Kingston Athletic Association football team coped with everything but the deadly aerials of Tony Gobeo at Wilson Field here Sunday, but that one shortcoming sent the Colonials down to an 18-0 Hudson Valley Semi-Pro League at the hands of the unbeaten Middletown Blue Devils.

Walden Stops Port
The rampaging Walden Red Tigers continued on their victory string Sunday afternoon by scoring a 13 to 7 win over the Port Jervis Merchants. It was Walden's third straight league conquest.

Kingston's next game is scheduled for its home field, Kingston Municipal Stadium, against Newburgh, next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Kingston fell victim to a Gobeo touchdown pass in the opening minutes of the first quarter, then held the well-manned Blue Devils on even terms until the final stanza when the sharp shooting former All DUSO Middle halfback unleashed another succession of aerials, twice connecting for touchdowns. Middletown's first scoring play covered 23 yards with Russ Cortese gathering in Gobeo's toss on the seven eluding several tacklers and going over.

A second touchdown pass play also was made from the 23 with Jimmy Dorsey on the receiving end. The last one was from the 18 with Tony Capozella gathering in the toss.

Kingston made its deepest penetration of enemy territory in the second period when it launched a drive from its own 27 and rolled for four straight first downs in reaching the 13-yard line as Jack Russo and Ben Bragg led the way. The assault came to halt when a Russo pass was intercepted by Harry Bambakos.

Kingston made nine first downs to eight for Middletown.

Tracks Are Cleared
Central Bridge, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—Wrecking crews worked today to clear Delaware and Hudson railroad tracks in the center of this Schoharie county village, blocked by the derailment of 12 cars of a 98-car northbound freight train. The Susquehanna division chief dispatcher's office at Oneonta said a broken coupling caused the accident last night. No one was injured, the office said.

Better Bowling

BY DALLA DALLA

Bowling begins with a straight ball delivery—for direction and control. One must learn first, to send the ball down the alley in a straight line, and to perfect his footwork so that his stride (run) also is in a straight line.

The finer points of the game, such as hook spin on the ball, and changing position on the alleys to "play" them when they are fast (highly polished) or when they are slow, all come in due time.

To deliver a straight ball it is held so that the thumb points forward, toward the pins. Thus the palm of the hand is in back of the ball. The fingers are spread comfortably (see illustration No. 1) and they are well under the ball. The position of the thumb is in the center of the ball, so that the weight of the ball is equally divided among the fingers. Placing the fingers under the ball avoids pressure and leads to a free, easy delivery.

When the fingers are not below the ball (illustration No. 2) it must be "pinched" to hold it. Pinching pressure induces sore

Model Railroaders Meet in Hartford

Northeastern Region Holds 1st Annual Convention

The Northeastern Region of the National Model Railroad Association, organized in Kingston on April 28, 1945, held its first annual convention in Hartford, Conn., on October 12 and 13, with Henry P. Eighmey, president, of 94 Highland avenue, in charge of the meeting.

Model railroaders from all sections of New England and New York were present at the convention which began Saturday with a fan trip on the New Haven railroad through the Cedar Hill classification yards and engine terminal at New Haven.

Saturday evening operations on the Hartford club's miniature railroad were enjoyed by the group, and at 10:45 p. m. a radio broadcast was given direct from the club.

The business session of the convention was held Sunday morning, presided over by President Eighmey and Henry C. Page of 105 Pearl street, secretary-treasurer of the Northeastern Region.

Motion pictures furnished by the New Haven railroad and an illustrated lecture by W. Watson House of Hartford were features of the afternoon meeting on Sunday.

Arrangements for the convention were in charge of Fred Reibel of Hartford, a director of the Region, with members of the Hartford Club serving on the committee.

Other local model engineers in attendance were Mrs. Eighmey, Mrs. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Diehl, all of Kingston, and Richard Genther of Saugerties.

Police in Bulgaria literally earmarked known pickpockets with indelible ink.

Fire Companies Relay Water

The Rosendale, Tillson and Binnewater Fire Companies relayed water over 1,000 feet Friday afternoon from Snyder's Pond on the Rosendale-Binnewater road in one of the first experiments of its kind ever tried in Ulster county. The fire chiefs of the town reported that the tests were successful.

As a result of the tests, Tillson, Binnewater and Rosendale will now have greater fire protection, the chiefs state. Tillson and Binnewater have only brooks and ponds from which water can be relayed to most parts of the communities. The three fire departments expect to work out a plan whereby each company will know where to station itself in relation to the location of the fire and the supply of water.

In the top picture, Sam Hermance is shown at the controls of the Rosendale pumper, which is pumping the water up the hill 500 feet to the Tillson pumper. In the center photo shown inspecting the Tillson pumper are Albert Shultz, Chauncey Rowe, Russell Douglass, Vincent Carroll, Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford of Kingston and Mayor Golden Lewis of Rosendale. In the bottom picture, the Binnewater fire truck is over 450 feet from the Tillson pumper. ## Guests May Get Cold Rooms, Baths In Capital Hotels

Washington, Oct. 14 (P)—Guests in 18 of Washington's leading hotels kept a sharp eye on weather reports today as they awaited a final decision on whether chilly rooms and cold showers may be added to the discomforts of living in the strike-bound hostels.

A few engine rooms not already have walked out of some hotels, joining some 5,000 A.F.L. service employees who are striking for higher pay. And Jesse Wood, business agent for the A.F.L. Engineers local said the executive board of his union will meet this week to consider a full-fledged sympathy strike.

Hope of an early settlement of the walkout, which began Friday, were chilled by Federal Conciliation Commissioner Clyde Mills, who told reporters there "apparently is no move in the direction of trying to work something out."

The walkout of service employees came after hotel operators rejected a conciliator's proposal of eight cent an hour raises for workers who receive no tips and 4 cents for those who do. The union originally had asked 15 and 10 cents and the hotels offered 5 and 2 1/2.

More than 30,000,000 acres of U. S. forest land are burned annually.

Jewish Appeal Is Enriched $35,000 At Levine Party

Joseph Levine of 105 Mountain View avenue was host to a group of prominent men of Kingston at his home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Joseph Levine and Mrs. Joseph Honig, acted as hostesses and Hugo Wessler, chairman of the drive, presided. Those in attendance made up the section of the Special Gifts Division of the United Jewish Appeal in Kingston. A total of $35,000 was raised at this cocktail party.

It is reported that in most cases the 1945 contributions were troubled and in some cases quadrupled. The increases were voluntary, those attending realizing the urgent need for relief money. The meeting on Sunday at Congregation Ahavath Israel was well attended. Dr. Manfred Arie, the guest speaker, gave a gripping account of the sufferings of the Jews and the hard work put in by refugee settlers in Palestine, who have tilled the soil and made a garden spot out of a desert. For an hour and a half he held his audience spellbound with harrowing experiences.

The moving picture, "Battle for Survival," narrated by Gerson Welles depicted the horrors of the war as it affected the Jews. This documentary film was one of the highlights of the meeting. Sunday, October 20 the campaign for funds in the Kingston district will be opened with a dinner at which time a lecturer with experience in the many present camps in Germany and Poland will relate experiences.

Hugo Wessler, general chairman, states: "We are going to make the Kingston quota of $115,000 and more than that. We will pass that sum for they have earned the right to a new life."

Six Russians Leave By Plane for Paris

New York, Oct. 14 (P)—Six Russians, ordered home by their government when the Department of Justice asked them to register as agents of a foreign power, left today by plane for Paris after expressing official regret over having to cut their visit short.

Pavel Fedosimov, Soviet vice consul at New York, said the six Russians, among them three members of the Supreme Council of the U.S.S.R., were not "very happy about having to leave."

Five Ukrainians, also asked by the Department of Justice to register, left by plane on Saturday en route home.

Those who left today included: Terafel Gorbounov, 42, professor of history at Minsk University and member of the Soviet Supreme Council.

Alexandre Korneitchouk, 41, playwright, scenarist, and member of the Soviet Supreme Council. Maj. Gen. Vassili Kozlov, 43, member of the Soviet Supreme Council.

Lydia Voinova, 33, secretary of the Anti-Fascist League of Russian Youth.

Lt. Gen. Alexandre Goundorov, 50, president of the All-Slav Committee.

Alexandre Egournov, 30, deputy executive of the All-Slav Committee.

The group came to the United States from Canada September 20 and attended the All-Slav Congress in New York city.

Helpful Motorist Got Stalled on Lawn Too

Sunday morning at 4 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call that two automobiles were damaging the lawn on the property of Tracy Van Kleeck at 291 West O'Reilly street.

According to the police report a car driven by James E. Quigley of 19 South Wall street, while passing the Van Kleeck house blew a tire and ran up over the sidewalk onto the lawn.

Fred Collins of 3 Rodney street, who was passing in his auto, went to the rescue of Quigley, and both cars became stalled on the lawn, and were towed back into the street by the Doc Smith tow truck.

Stalin Says War Talk Serves to Up Military Budgets

London, Oct. 14 (P)—The Moscow radio said last night that Prime Minister Stalin's recent charge that military men were promoting war talk referred to "such a country as the United States."

Answering a letter from Alexander Werth of the London Sunday Times, Stalin declared on September 24 that some foreign military men were spreading war talk to keep their countries from cutting military budgets.

A Moscow broadcaster, whose name was blotted out by faulty reception here, said that "Stalin's words refer, of course, to such a country as the United States, whose military appropriations today hold first place in the world."

The commentator declared that "in peacetime, the United States is expending in one year for military purposes two-thirds of the total sum which it expended in the course of 130 years at peace."

In Moscow the government paper Izvestia took note of a story in the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution which said that Japanese designers of an atomic bomb were prisoners in the Russian capital and termed the story "the delirium of a provincial paper."

(David Snell wrote in the Constitution that a Japanese officer told him he had been in charge of Japanese scientists in Konan, Korea, who had successfully tested an atomic bomb three days before the war ended. The scientists destroyed unfinished bombs and secret documents, Snell quoted the officer as saying, before the Russians came.)

Both Izvestia and Pravda criticized the story.

SUNOCO DYNAFUEL

We believe no gasoline, even premium-priced, can equal the incomparable smoothness of Dynafuel

HERE'S WHY: ALL gasolines (including Sunoco Dynafuel) are composed of "light" and "heavy" molecules. As the gasoline goes into the cylinders from the carburetor, some of the "heavy" molecules separate from the rest of the gasoline and go to certain cylinders which get most of the "heavy" molecules, while other cylinders get mostly "light" molecules.

OTHER GASOLINES

SUNOCO DYNAFUEL

... high knockless power
... swift acceleration
... unexcelled long mileage

IN MOST OTHER GASOLINES the "heavy" molecules are lost in engine quality... but the "light" molecules are high octane. The cylinders receiving the low grade "heavy" molecules do not receive the same high knockless quality as other cylinders.

IN SUNOCO DYNAFUEL, all molecules, both "heavy" and "light," deliver equally high octane power. Its matter whether a cylinder receives "light" or "heavy" molecules, all cylinders and all cylinders receive uniformly high knockless quality.
